Milestone 2 Project Tools

For Milestone 2 we decided to use Trello to help manage the work we will do. In order to fill Trello with work we started by breaking down our scheduler concept into big ideas on paper. From there we took those larger ideas and began splitting them up based off of user requirements, functional requirements, and non-functional requirements we wanted to include in our project. One example of this breakdown is with our 'Event Page'. We then broke down the event page into smaller tasks such as 'HTML', 'CSS', and 'Search function'. We did this for all of our ideas and then grouped them into what type of requirement they fall in (User, Functional, Non-Functional).

Below are screenshots of our overall Trello board, User Requirements, Functional Requirements, and Non-Functional Requirements.
